Golf Club Reorganized

The Sugar City Golf Club was reorganized at a meeting held last week with Dr. P. M. Hall as President, W. H. Gatz, Vice-President and A. H. Zabriskie, Secretary and Treasurer. The membership drive is now on, and it is hoped to sell enough memberships to fix up the course in good shape.

A new course is being laid out and worked out, out on Temple Hill, and these who know state that when completed it will be as good a nine hole course as can be found any place in Southern Alberta. The markers are practically all up now, the tees are fixed, and the holes are being prepared. One of the draw backs at present is the high grass in places, and the difficulty this causes when a ball is lost. The Grounds Committee are working on this to have the grass kept down, and the course in good playing condition.

For hazards, etc., that all go to make up good golf, the course is superb, and when the thing is finished Raymond will have a good, up to date course, and will be in a position to join with other towns and visitors here for golf tournaments. Interest in the game is growing, and it is certain that many who have not hitherto played will be doing the plus fours and taking the royal and ancient game more seriously. Success to the Golf Club.

Successful Baby Clinic

A very successful Baby Clinic was held in Raymond last Thursday and Friday at the United Church, with Miss Campbell of the Department of Public Health in charge. The clinic was patronized by the Women's Institute, and these women are to be commended for the work and effort put into these clinics.

During the two days there were 213 children examined, and 71 were 2 years of age, and 42 of pre school age. Generally speaking the health of the youngsters was very good, there being 90 that were normal in every way.

The following defects were found in the examination:

- 1. Defective Vision
- 2. Defective Hearing
- 3. Enlarged Tonsils
- 4. Enlarged Adenoids
- 5. Defective Teeth
- 6. Defective Feet

The value of these clinics cannot be computed, and will not be appreciated until the children who are examined by these nurses grow up, and learn to appreciate the value of a perfect body and sound health, and if the advice and instructions received at these clinics is carried out in daily life, we should have a superior race of men and women in the very near future.

News Notes

Some parts of China levy CO. different taxes upon citizens.

Shelby and district had a damaging hail storm last Thursday when ear tops were riddled by the hail, and all sorts of broken and fenders dented and a horn torn off a car by the severity of the hail. Storm in the town were flooded, and in one cafe where a banquet was given, the wet dresses had to do the serving in high topped overshoes according to the Sweet Grass Examiner. The damage to crops and gardens is lessened by the fact that they are later this year than usual.

News Notes

Byron Vance was a Lethbridge visitor on Sunday last.

O. H. Snow spent part of this week in Edmonton, to a convention of Municipalities.

Const. Ellis of Magrath and J. W. Low of Cardston, were business visitors in Raymond on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wing and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stone were at the Temple last Thursday night.

A. W. Kirkham was ill over the week-end with a heavy cold and headache.

Frank Atterton returned on Monday morning after spending the week-end in Cardston.

"B. J." Evans and Const. Van Orman were in the Warner district on Sunday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Palmer of Wrentham were Raymond visitors Saturday evening of last week.

Most of the Public school grades have been in school one half day during the past week. Examinations have been going on in all grades.

Carstairs will celebrate Dominion Day on July 1st, with a program similar to the one Raymond is sponsoring.

Speakers at the First Ward Sacrament Meeting Sunday night were Elders Wayne Knight, B. W. Daynes, and W. Stratford.

R. J. Webster has been helping Frank Atterton this week on the latter's new home in the west side of town, and they have the walls and roof nearly on now.

J. F. Elder is busy now on his new service station which will be located just east of the Opera House. It will include besides a gas and oil service, he will have greasing and washing racks and a complete service for motorists.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibb, and Jas. S. Anderson were in Wrentham on Wednesday evening attending a Cottage meeting there. They are listed with the program of the meeting.

It is stated that a farmer in Ontario had to exchange two bags of potatoes, 180 lbs. for one eight or a pound of chewing tobacco. That tobacco should surely have tasted good.

Work is progressing nicely on the home of J. O. Hicken, near the C. E. Fawns home down Broadway. It will be a bungalow with a large front porch, and will make a nice addition to this part of the town.

L. L. Palmer, and E. L. Paxman were the speakers at the Second Ward, Sunday night. Miss LalPriel Pacey, Earl Zemp and Wm. Anderson who had attended the M.I.A. Convention in Salt Lake City were also speakers reporting the Convention. Miss Laura McLean sang a vocal solo.

The cart for the Wild Steer Race on Dominion Day is about ready for the fracas. It is worth your time to see this. A long goose neck is bolted securely to the cart, and in the end is a spring fastening to release Mr. Steer when the race is over. One would want to be careful not to release it too soon. It fits into a heavy leather surcingle, and if the steer gets tired of chasing the cart, he can pull the vehicle and it still stays with him. It should be plenty of fun.

TO AMALGAMATE MUNICIPALITIES INTO FORTY DISTRICTS

PREMIER BROWNLEE ANNOUNCES PROPOSED NEW PLAN OF AMALGAMATION

Edmonton, Alta., June 22.—Abolition of the present system of small municipal districts in the province and the creation in its place of a system of "enlarged municipal areas," under which the 166 municipal districts now in operation, together with some 143 improvement districts now administered by the provincial government, would be amalgamated into some 40 "enlarged" areas, thereby eliminating a large part of the cost of government both provincial and municipal, while increasing efficiency of administration is proposed in plans announced this week by Premier J. E. Brownlee. A saving in municipal administrative costs alone of over a quarter million dollars or three-quarters of a million on the total rural assessment in the province is estimated, while the saving in provincial administrative costs and in the costs of all public services will run into very large figures.

The proposal which has already been before the provincial cabinet, and is now presented to the public by the Premier, is the result of two years of rather exhaustive study and survey of the province conducted by an official of the Department of Municipal Affairs. The plan is entirely different from any scheme of large municipal organizations in existence in Canada or the United States, and is simply the application of the principles of our present small municipal units to the larger area and continues the existing idea of only one authority for municipal administrative and taxing purposes.

The plan as so far developed will, in accordance with a resolution of the last convention of the municipal districts association, be discussed further with the executive of that organization who have already been in consultation with the department officials in its preparation. It will then be submitted to the next convention of that association after which it is hoped it will be ready for submission to the next session of the provincial legislature. As a basis for discussion only a map has been prepared setting out a plan of consolidation which appears reasonable, and equitable to the departmental officials, but this map will, of course, be subject to adjustment, both as to the number of large units and their boundaries, as a result of further discussion. The new districts would be set up in accordance with certain fundamental principles, more or less as follows:

Grouping of localities having a common interest, and being of the same general agricultural and geographical classification as far as possible.

Maintenance of the municipal boundaries along townships and ranges lines save where natural boundaries such as rivers might more advantageously be used.

Existence of sufficient population and assessable property so that each unit could function economically.

Consideration of the accessibility of the administrative center.

Government of the unit would be much the same as the government of the present municipal districts. There would be a council of six or eight

He was taken to Cardston and the wound dressed and the next day he was able to go home.

VEEN — HALL.
Miss Mable Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall, and Casey Veen, surprised their many friends by a quiet wedding on Friday June 17th, in Lethbridge, the Rev. J. M. Fritch and performing the ceremony.

The young couple are well known locally, and they have a host of friends who will wish them good luck in the matrimonial voyage. The groom has been here for some time past and has been working in the Butcher Shop. The bride is a Raymond girl, and is one of the popular young ladies of the town.

MECKS — TERRY
The wedding of Miss Leola Terry, daughter of Mrs. Eva Terry, and Rex Meeks, son of James E. Meeks, was solemnized at the Alberta Temple on Wednesday of this week with Pres. Edw. J. Wood officiating, and a number of relatives and friends present.

The young couple are both well known in Raymond, and are among the popular younger set of the town, and have a host of friends who will wish them well in their married life. The groom has just returned from a mission to England a short time back, and is helping his father in his livestock and farming business.

The grandstand and corrals at the Park are all in readiness now for the Big Show on Dominion Day. Quite a lot of work has been done out there.

Second Ward Party Held

The regular monthly party of the Second Ward was held in the Wa-Hall last Friday night beginning at 9 p.m. Despite the busy season a good crowd was present when the program commenced, and by the time the dancing started the hall was crowded.

The Mutuals had charge of the evening and Robt. Salmon took charge, and the program from start to finish was peppy and full of comedy. The first comedy stunt was a scene at the station, then a Maiden in Distress, and this was followed by "The Interview." These were all short and spicy, and a very unexpected ending to all of them. Then came "The Doctor" and "The Proposal" which completed the lineup of dramatic sketches for the evening.

The Musical part of the evening featured a troupe introduced as "The Zeigfeld Folies" and their singing and tap dancing was amazing. Their foot action was the talk of the town and the manipulation of them was wonderful. The concluding act was the appearance of the "Sweet Family" directed by "Ma" Sweet in person. The group singing, and the matrimonial numbers they rendered was worthy of special mention. They were each one a specialist in some form of entertainment, so that the audience had a variety of singing, speaking, reciting and so "Ma" said "celebrating."

This was followed by a couple of hours dancing which rounded out a full evening of fun and merry making. There were a number of new faces seen in this program on Friday night so that if these programs do not benefit anyone else, they are benefiting these who take part in them, and these are many.

There were about 35 people to take part on the stage Friday evening, and while names have been omitted mention should probably be made of Miss Iva Jones, Mrs. L. E. King and Mrs. J. H. Walker and F. L. Huxley, who rather engineered the program. Miss A. Andrews played for the dance which followed the entertainment.

LARGER AREAS AND FEWER DISTRICTS

Elsewhere in this issue is an article from the Provincial Government, dealing with the proposed change in Municipal Government in Alberta, and we commend the study of this matter to all those interested.

It is aiming at larger units, making about 40 in the Province where as we now have 166 municipal districts and 143 Local Improvement Districts. The status of towns and cities would remain unchanged, but instead of a Municipal District, as at present containing a township or so, the new arrangement would divide the Province somewhat according to the present electoral districts, and put the boundaries where the needs and practices of the people were similar, or where rivers and streams made natural divisions.

There is much to recommend this new system. At present in each 166 Municipal Districts there will be found practically a complete lay out of road machinery, and this is also the case in the 143 L. I. Districts. Some good mathematician figure out what this represents, and what the saving in taxes would be when replacement was necessary, and there were only forty of these to buy, instead of somewhere around 300. There would not be this many, but this would do for a basis to figure on. This is one phase of the matter. Then too, all this equipment is only used for a few days or weeks each year, and the rest of the time it is lying idle, and depreciating every day. This phase is also important.

Then too, in the question of road building. At present, one district will desire a good road in one particular direction, and they go ahead and build it. When they get to their own boundary, they find that their neighbors are not interested in a good road in this particular locality, and the efforts of the one district become nullified because of a division of interest. This would not be so much the case in the larger areas, as in these the areas would be large enough to merit the mapping of certain necessary and well defined roads, and of building these thru to link up certain points, that would make for economy in road construction, and also permanency, because when these main roads were constructed they would be kept up and maintained because of necessity.

The taxation burden would be greatly equalized, and there would not be the present cry of high taxation in some quarters and lower rates in others. As we are today one district is more extravagant or more progressive than its neighbors, its people clamor for more in the way of schools and improvements, and as the Council men are only the servants of the people and the tax roll is their only means of financing, they naturally raise the mill rate to defray these expenses, whether they be few or many. Schools, roads, all these problems are vital in the district, and could be handled more satisfactorily and equitably to all in the larger districts.

Then the question of government also is worthy of consideration. It is likely that in the proposed new system one man would have as much territory as six have now. The question of representative members from the various districts, or if Councils of about three men, to handle the affairs, would be one for much study. The Reeve at present is one of the elected Councilmen, it is suggested that under the new system the Reeve may be elected at large, separate and apart from the Councilmen themselves. There is also the suggestion that in addition to Three Commissioners mentioned, a Road Engineer be hired, and that he have charge of all the work in the district pertaining to roads and bridges.

It is a big problem. The Department at Edmonton has been studying it for three years past, and they are sending out this information so that people may discuss the question and have something concrete in the way of suggestions and advice when the Provincial House meets next year. We should not be too narrow in sizing up the situation. All of us want lower taxes, and it appears that this is one way to get them. We may have to sacrifice personal interests somewhat, we may have to give and take a little more under the new system than we do now, but the question is worth consideration at any rate, and if it were not felt to be a necessary move the Government would not be feathering it and trying to arrive at the best decision as to the administration of the affairs of the Province.

Again we commend to our readers the suggestions, in the article from the Government, and we will welcome any constructive criticism and suggestions on the matter for publication in these columns. In order to get all of the facts before all of the people so that the arguments for and against the present system as compared with the suggested new order of things may be fully understood and appreciated by all.

HEALTH AND AGE

During the course of our lifetime we change. Change is inevitable because we first grow gradually and develop into maturity; then later we begin to fade. Change is part of life.

There is no reason why, during all these years of changing conditions, we should not enjoy health. We can, providing we are willing to recognize the changes which occur, and make the necessary effort to adjust ourselves to these changes.

Throughout life there are certain health requirements that do not change. Proper food, sufficient rest, exercise and such things are required at all ages. However, the food requirements of a young baby are not the same as those of a working man, nor same as those of a working man, nor same. The general need continues, but it must be adapted to the age and occupation of the individual.

At certain ages there are disease hazards. Whooping cough is a serious menace to the young baby. Tuberculosis takes its heaviest toll in early adult life. Cancer ravages the adult group. It is obvious that at these various ages special attention must be given to meet the conditions which are particularly serious at such ages.

A difficult age is the one when we begin to realize that our bodies are no longer capable of doing readily the things which were formerly done with ease. We do not like to think that we are growing old, and that we have passed the height of our physical powers. When this time comes it is necessary to make the habit of life such that they are within the capacity of the body. It means taking things a little slower, with longer periods for rest, and the avoidance of heavy or sudden physical strains. The growing boy cannot do what the full grown man can do, and the older man should not attempt what the younger adult can do.

A man may be only as old as he feels, and there is no reason why he should be depressed because he is growing older. However, no matter how young he feels, it is the part of wisdom for the older man to realize that his body is not as young as it was. If he will do that he may look forward to many useful and happy years.

The older person requires less food and more rest is needed. Sudden physical strains are to be avoided. Things

WRENTHAM IS MADE INDEPENDENT BRANCH

Presidents O. H. Snow and J. W. Evans were in Wrentham recently, with some of the Stake Sunday School Board members, and while there organized Wrentham and the district east into an Independent Branch. Heretofore it has been part of the Stirling Ward but it was felt that an organization of their own would be a good thing, and they were consequently organized.

Arlo Palmer was made Branch President, Nephil L. Head, 1st Assistant, and L. Hirsche, 2nd. They will have charge of all the east country from now on.

U. F. W. A. MEETING

The U.F.W.A. held their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Phoebe Evans owing to the weather only a small number were present but they expressed themselves as delighted with the treatment of the newly added study Political Economy—which was presented by A. D. Woolley. Mr. Woolley has been a keen student of economics for many years consequently is able to discuss present day conditions in an able manner. The speaker said the credit system was the basis for the present depression and held out no immediate hope of a change,
that lack of foresight in individuals, corporations and governments had brought about economic destruction.
A paper on "The Influence of Home Training" was read by Mrs. A. D.
Woolley. The home was given as the chief factor in the training of children and the training could not start too early. The example of parents on their children was stressed also the influence of companions and books.

Announcement of the district Wor-men's Conference sometime in July was made by the secretary.
